

Southern England is the backdrop for this adventure/romance novel. The transportation is a BSA motorcycle; the setting is the exotic countryside, and the love affair develops quickly amongst the variety of sights in this part of England. This is not just a story of true adventures and real people but accurate travel information for anyone visiting this beautiful area.